it would be to unite a county in eastern Kansas to a county in western Kansas. The organiza-tion of No Man's Land should be left until the Cherokee outlet (which intervenes) shall be open to settlement and shall be attached to oklahoma. Then he might be disposed to have the public land strip attached to the territory of Oklahoma, although some people favored its annexation to the state of Texas.

Bills making appropriations for public principle contained in the rule the republication. cans were ready to meet them and let the people choose. But as sure as the republicans remained in the majority they would perform the functions that the Constitution and the people made it their duty to perform.

AN EARLY ADJOURNMENT. What Congress Will Do After Adopting the New Rules.

It is expected now that this will be a short, sharp session. The liberality of the new rules, which give promise of promt action on all measures reported, has excited to great activity all the people who are seeking special legislation, whether for claims, pensions or what not. The friends of every one of the six thousand bills that have been introduced are encouraged by the hope that fair consideration will be accorded the measures. Of course many of the bills proposed, if passed, would greatly reduce the surplus in the treasury. While it is the purpose of the majority to dispose of proper legislation and do justice to those who have a right to demand legislaappropriating $40,000 for the Marion (Ind.) tion, it is not to the party interest to let the appropriations mount up too high in one year. In order to prevent excessive appropriations it is proposed to set all the important measures well advanced ahead of the great mass of

If they succeed in getting all the measures that are of importance out of the way early they will probably adjourn as soon as possible thereafter. There would be several advan-tages in an early adjournment besides that of cutting off unnecessary legislation. An early adjournment, with all the necessary work done up clean, would necessarily give the republicans a boom in the next elections.

WHY HE DECLINES TO BE APPOINTED .- John E. Haggard, nominated for marshal of North Dakota, has declined the appointment. It is intimated that this action on his part is because he was aware that his connection with a lottery scheme in North Dakota is distasteful to the administration. Mr. Haggard had not yet been A BOGUS NATIONAL BANK EXAMINER.-Information has reached the controller of currency to the effect that a man calling himself E. McGregor, who was at Topeka, Kan., from January 16 to 21, claimed that he was examiner of national banks. As it is found on inquiry at the controller's office that there is no examiner of national banks of this name, it would be well for bank officers to be on their guard against this individual and to explore his his-

The Case of Dr. W. W. Beall. The case of Dr. W. W. Beall, who sometime ago was convicted and sentenced by Judge Miller on charges of removing the body of Mrs. Cheek from the Congressional cemetery and that of Mary Hawkins from potter's field, was set for a hearing in the Police Court at 3 o'clock this afternoon, but was again continued. It is now set for next Wednesday. The motion was filed by Messrs. Cook and Sutherland and asks for a new trial on the ground of insufficient evidence and of newly discovered evidence tending to support the alibi of the defendant. Counsel also move an arrest of judgment because the informa-tions defectively allege the crime charged against the defendant; because the charge was not sufficiently sustained by the evidence, and because the finding was contrary to the law. The case will be heard Wednesday at 3 o'clock unless there is another postponement.
